

Completing the Expansion of South Peninsula Hospital

Present Expansion Work

To be completed in August, 2007

- New Imaging Department featuring a Women's Center
- New Emergency Room
- New Main Entrance and Registration
- Expanded Specialty Clinic
- Expanded Supply and Warehouse

Architectural drawing of the completed expansion in its entirety. The new emergency department, admitting area and imaging areas which will be completed in August, 2007, are accessed through the upper east level.

Finishing the Expansion

To begin in fall of 2007 and completed spring of 2009, contingent upon voter approval in April 2007.

- New Patient Wing and Nursing Station
- 18 Single Occupancy Rooms
- Rooftop Helicopter Landing Pad
- Expanded Surgery and Outpatient Area
- New Safe Room
- Upgraded and Relocated Laboratory & Pharmacy
- Expanded Parking

New single occupancy patient rooms are integral to a patient-centered model of care and offer ample space for family, bedside procedures and a private bath.

The south side facing Kachemak Bay features a new patient wing in the rounded front, a rooftop helicopter landing pad and plenty of room for growth in the lower level.

Growing for You . . . It's Essential!

South Peninsula Hospital